

Frontend Developer (m/f/x)

Full-time position at FinTech Startup Levaro
From May 2020

Your future at Levaro

We are looking for authentic talents with personality striving to empower people in organizations through smart finance processes. At Levaro we put a high value on challenging and encouraging each other, always having the vision to create the leading Finance Operating System worldwide. In our team, we promote an atmosphere of personal development, self-responsibility, and self-fulfillment regarding yourself and your career. We want to improve the lives of our customers by creating first-class products, establish an outstanding company and have lots of fun at the same time.

Your tasks

- ✓ Building amazing new product features in frontend which customers will love
- ✓ Involvement in the entire process, from conception and research to 3rd level support and maintenance
- ✓ Implementation of complex requirements in user stories
- ✓ Assurance of high quality for tests, programming and code reviews
- ✓ Flexible division of work and the offer to turn your own concepts and ideas into reality

Your skills

- ✓ Completed studies in computer science, business informatics or comparable, alternatively training as an IT specialist
- ✓ Frontend experience including web engineering, mobile development as well as experience in structuring ideally in React
- ✓ Fluent in JavaScript
- ✓ Enthusiasm for startups and programming
- ✓ Ability to approach people openly and work reliably in a team
- ✓ Motivated, creative and independent working style

We are Levaro

Being part of Levaro means being part of something exceptional. It allows you to shape the future of finances, the future of Levaro and at the same time also your future. We want to create one of the fastest-growing B2B-SaaS-Startup in Europe and bring the finance department into the 21st century. After a validation phase with more than 100 companies, we have developed a novel concept for a SaaS solution that digitalizes internal financial processes in SMEs, automating areas such as credit card payments, invoice approvals, and expense reports. Our ambitious team is supported by the XPRENEURS accelerator program, the LMU Entrepreneurship Center and very renowned investors.

This is only the beginning. We aim at establishing the leading Finance Operating System worldwide. At Levaro we believe in people like you - ambitious and forward-thinking talents who want to make a difference by challenging the status quo. Join us if you are passionate about first-class products, want to solve real customer problems and build one of the world's leading companies in FinTech with us!

That sounds like you and we have aroused your interest? Then take off and send a detailed application by e-mail to apply@levaro.io. In case there are any questions left open, also feel free to reach out to us via email. We are looking forward to hearing from you.